Portales, N. M., Feb. 2.—Rev. L. W. Dunlap, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Portales, has received a call from the church of Tucumcari, N. M., and has announced to his congregation that he has practically accepted the call, realizing that the church of Portales, having scarcely one-third as many members as that of Tucumcari, could not afford to offer him what he felt he must have in remuneration for his services. The church of Portales refused to accept his resignation, the members raised their subscriptions in a congregational meeting and by a canvass of the leading business men of the town, raised the salary above that offered by the Tucumcari church.

LAYING SEWERS AT TUCUMCARI

Ditching Machine Is Employed in Work—Tucumcari News.

Tucumcari, N. M., Feb. 2.—Both of the large ditching machines which the Jaeger Construction company sent here to use in the excavation work on the sanitary sewer system have been put to work and rapid progress is being made in cutting the ditches for the sewers. The engineers have been confronted with quite a difficult task in getting the proper slope for sewer drainage, as the surface of the city is rather flat and the sewer mains throughout the business district will be laid about 12 feet deep, so as to give the proper slope to the residence district.

S. A. Coiler, agent for a sewing machine, who has made his headquarters here for the past two years, made his last report to the company a few days ago and will engage in other business somewhere in the territory.

Roswell, N. M., Feb. 2.—Before United States commissioner A. J. Nisbet, charges of embezzlement against Robert Kellahan, postmaster, have been made by postoffice inspector D. F. Dolan and R. Smith. The inspectors say the charge is based on a shortage discovered in the accounts of the postmaster. The shortage has been made good. Patrons of the Roswell office are inclined to believe that if an error existed it was one of bookkeeping only and the people of Roswell unite in asking that postmaster Kellahan be retained in office.

BORING FOR OIL AROUND ARTESIA

Democrats Over There Want a Whack at the New Constitution.

Artesia, N. M., Feb. 2.—Oil is the sole topic of conversation here since the meeting of the Commercial club, at which a committee consisting of Dr. C. W. Williams, Judge G. U. McCrary and Judge S. E. Ferrer were appointed to solicit subscriptions to cooperate with the Giant Oil company in the work of putting in an oil well about five miles southeast of Artesia. The project is backed by many of the leading capitalists of the valley and will be pushed until it is definitely learned whether there is oil in paying quantities in the valley or not. There is every indication that the oil field is one of the best in the southwest.

Fire destroyed a small residence occupied by the Collins family. A defective water plug prevented prompt action.

The Artesia Democratic club is out with what it calls the "Artesia Plan" for a constitution for the state of New Mexico that is to be. It does not propose to suggest a whole constitution, but it proposes that all Democrats shall write the several Democratic newspapers in the territory and also the Democratic "statesmen" and urge the newspapers and "statesmen" to begin a campaign of education with a view of inducing the people to demand that the constitution contain provisions for a railroad commission, elected by the people, a tax commission elected by the people, an advisory vote for United States senators and a moderate initiative and referendum.
